

storytelling schools

where every child is a storyteller

Training menu 2016 to 2017 (Oxford)

Storytelling Schools is delighted to announce a series of training opportunities for the new academic year. Sessions will be run by Chris Smith, Adam Guillain and Jules Pottle at Wood Farm Primary School, Titup Hall Drive, Headington, Oxford, OX3 8QQ.

Dates	Course details
14 Oct 2016 and 7 July 2017 9am to 3.30pm	Introduction and induction day: Storytelling Schools: this one day course is designed as an introduction to the Storytelling Schools approach, either for those new to the method, or for teachers who have recently joined a Storytelling School and need an induction. £150 + VAT (includes Handbook worth £45)
23 Nov 2016, 8 Feb, 7 June 2017 9am to 3.30pm	Training Skills Course: this three day course is suitable for those wishing to offer training within their own school and partnership, comes with a trainer's handbook of methods complete with workshop outlines and handouts. £500 + VAT for three days
18 Jan 2017 9am to 3.30pm	Networking and refresher day: keeping the approach fresh and new is an ongoing challenge. This one day course provides a refresher for teachers working in Storytelling Schools. The course will be run as an action learning day with presentations from Storytelling Schools' trainers on developments in the approach, skills based training as well as networking exercises and discussion with other teachers. The day will be led by Storytelling Schools' Director Chris Smith. £120 + VAT
8 Feb and 7 June 2017 4pm to 5.30pm	Twilight session: An Introduction to storytelling and writing: this session will introduce the process of teaching through shared writing, demonstrating the process of text creation and planning with the class. Shared writing practice is the key to raising standards in writing. £40 + VAT
8 March 2017 9am to 3.30pm	Trainers' Day: This session will provide an update and refresher for teachers who are providing leadership and CPD in Storytelling Schools. The course will be run as an action learning day with presentations from Storytelling Schools' trainers on developments in training, modelling of skills based training as well as networking exercises and discussion with other trainers and leaders. The day will be led by Storytelling Schools' Director Chris Smith. Suitable for graduates of the Training Skills course and the Gold course, as well as other trainers and subject leaders. £120 + VAT

Full day courses include a light lunch. For more information or to book a place please contact claire@storytellingschools.com or call 01865 748447. For more information about Storytelling Schools please see our website www.storytellingschools.com.

